The assizes were held here several times between the years 1587 and 1648. On the 5th of September in the latter year, Justice Bacon and Serjeant Cresheld were the Judges. Artillery barracks were afterwards built on the site of the Gallows, and when they were taken down at the close of the war, a dwelling-house was erected, which is now occupied as a ladys school. Just below, on the same road, is the site of the Hospital of St. John, which gives name to a few houses surrounding the spot. A few years since, several human skeletons were discovered close to the farm-yard, probably within the ancient precincts of the Hospital; they were placed side by side, with their feet to the easl. In the town is a pond, now arched over and a pump only to...
