And he arose and stood forth. 9 Then said Jesus unto them, I will ask you one thing; Is it lawful on the sabbath days to do good, or to do evil 1 to save life, or to destroy it 10 And looking i round about upon them all, he said unto the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he did so: and his hand was restored whole as the other. 11 And they were filled with madness; and communed) one with another what they might do to Jesus. 12 If And k it came to pass in those ddys, that he went out into a mountain to pray, and continued all night in prayer to God. ly to the grand essentials of religion: for when externals and circumstantials are magnified above their real importance, eensoriousness, bigotry, and divisions, are the invariable consequences. Because humble Christians practise their self-denial, and perform their devotions, in secret, and without ostentation, Pharisees may sometimes be ready to conclude that they neither fast nor pray at all. But every part of our duty has its proper season and proportion, as stated in the Scriptures; and it should have the same in the conduct of our lives: the gracious presence of our Beloved makes a feast to our souls, so long as it is continued to us; but when our sins provoke his departure or his frown, we are called to mourn and fast as...
